Langley Design worked with Lengard on the £3.3m project Elim Church, Merton Hall project which includes a nurse, food bank spaces, a café, meeting rooms and administration, centred on a welcoming lobby and foyer. We provided a number of our Pewsham concrete benches and planters which were placed in front of the church to complement the historic building whilst offering an ideal solution for outdoor seating where there is limited space. Although on this project the client opted for a standard grey finish, the concrete is available in a range of colours and finishes to match the site-specific requirements.
