

Brookside Academy is a nursery and primary school located in the picturesque village of Street, Somerset, just a stones throw away from Glastonbury. Langley Design were tasked with ensuring the courtyard could be used to its full potential as an outdoor classroom and an area for children to unwind and play, even in the unpredictable English weather. What was unusual with the design requirements here was that we needed to work inside an existing, enclosed courtyard. With our flexible approach to manufacturing and installing we were able to overcome all obstacles and ended up providing a wonderful covered area for the whole courtyard. We were involved with this project from start to finish, initially brainstorming ideas and solutions with WD Architects and then working closely with the school to guarantee everyone was happy with the end product. Langley Design manufactured supplied and installed our impressive SCP313, with a robust non-fragile apex roof, durable hardwood iroko timber frame and galvanised steel supports. Our bespoke manufacturing capabilities were key on this project and us being able to make our products to most sizes required was essential in allowing everyone to get the most out of this outdoor space. This canopy is sure to stand the test of time and allow children for many years to enjoy this newly rejuvenated outdoor area.
